2-Read the following passage, and then answer the questions:

Can you even begin to imagine what it would be like to live a life of silence in which you can't converse with others or make yourself understood? Well, today millions of people worldwide have whole conversations without actually uttering a word, due to the invention of sign language. For those people who are deaf, it is their primary means of communication with their fellow man. Unfortunately, it is mainly deaf 12 people who learn sign language, so their means of communication is limited as they can't converse with everyone.

Deaf people are capable of enjoying a laugh or a joke just like anyone. Usually, it is the hearing person that feels awkward or embarrassed around them. They usually raise their voice or even shout when trying to communicate – presuming this enables them to hear more – which of course is completely wrong. If hearing people just learned the basics of sign language, such as the alphabet and enough language to communicate, it would be beneficial to both groups.

What exactly is sign language? It is a non-verbal means of communication whereby people use gestures instead of sounds to represent words. They use their fingers to spell these words letter by letter as well as facial expressions and lip-reading. Like most of us, deaf people also use body language to convey messages to others. Sign language is not international as there are over two hundred different types of it in the world. In addition, as with most languages it has variations which differ from region to region.

1-What is the author's purpose in writing this passage?

- a) To explain physiological problems of deaf people.
b) To explain how sign language helps deaf people.
c) To explain benefits of keeping silent all the time.
d) To explain body language use in the oral presentation.

2-Which of the following is the correct summary for paragraph 2?

- a) It is advisable for normal persons to know the essentials of sign language.
b) It is recommended for normal people to keep telling jokes to deaf people.
c) It is common that deaf people have loud voice during conversation.
d) It is difficult for deaf people to enjoy funny things like normal people.

3-What can you infer about hearing people?

- a) They are hesitant on how to address the deaf.
- b) They are unable to use sign language.
- c) They only know the basics of sign language.
- d) They are afraid of the deaf people.

4-In your opinion, what do you think hearing people should do based on paragraph 2?

- a) Stop dealing with deaf people.
- b) Fully study sign language.
- c) Learn sign language basics.
- d) Keep raising their voice.

5-What does paragraph 3 tell you about sign language?

- a) It has its phonic system
- b) It has its written format.
- c) It is a universal language.
- d) It is primarily for deaf people.

6-Which of the following is NOT one of the reasons sign language was invented for?

- a) Encouraging people to use gestures and lip-reading.
- b) Facilitating communication among deaf people.
- c) Helping deaf people to fit into society.
- d) Ensuring deaf people live a normal life.
